Impaired driving is scary: This Halloween, The Posen Police Department is cracking down on drunk, drugged driving

(Posen, Illinois) – The Posen Police Department today urged motorists to commit to sober driving, buckling up and following traffic laws this Halloween, as children and their families walk through neighborhoods after dark for candy and spooky fun. If you're planning to enjoy Halloween festivities, make sure you also plan for a safe, sober ride home. Remember: “Drive Sober or Get Pulled Over” and “Click It or Ticket.”

“Alcohol and cannabis impair your ability to drive safely,” said Chief William Alexander. “That’s why it’s crucial to plan how you’ll get home before you head out – whether you’ll be drinking or using any other substance. And don’t forget to wear your seat belt every trip, every time. Planning ahead, driving sober and buckling up can help keep you and others safe.”

Driving while impaired is never acceptable. Remember: DUIs are not limited to alcohol-related offenses. It’s illegal to drive under the influence of alcohol, cannabis, or any other drugs or substances. While cannabis may be legal for adults, if you drive high, you’ll still get a DUI. Additionally, all vehicle occupants must wear their seat belts – failure to do so will result in a ticket.

The Posen Police Department encourages everyone to follow these simple tips to keep our roads safe this Halloween:
